GARRISON DISAPPROVES CHICAGO'S PARK SCHEME

Secretary of War Declines Permit for Unrestricted Use of Lake Front Ground.

Chicago's lake front park project has been disapproved by Secretary Garrison of the War Department, on the ground that it would halt commercial development. Acting upon an exhaustive report from Brig. Gen. Bixby, the Secretary declined to grant any of the requests of the Chicago park commissioners for unrestricted permission to occupy water front property. The commission was notified, however, that if they desire they will be given a hearing on the subject personally or through counsel.

Plan of the Commissioners.

The commissioners proposed to occupy the lake frontage from Randolph street to 12th street, from 12th street to 67th street and from 67th street to 102d street. This, Mr. Garrison said, probably would render the construction of any up-to-date commercial pier in Lake Michigan forever impossible within the limits of the city of Chicago.

Gen. Bixby's report was a complete history of the development of the port of Chicago. It strongly urged development to refrain from granting any permits which would restrict the commercial development of the port without express direction by Congress.

ALEXANDER McDOWELL, CLERK OF HOUSE, DIES

Former Pennsylvania Representative Succumbs to Diabetes at Age of 82.

SHARON, Pa., September 30.—Maj. Alexander McDowell, for fifteen years clerk of the House of Representatives at Washington, died this morning at his home here. He was eighty-two years old, and had been ill of diabetes for several weeks.

Was Universally Liked.

News of Maj. McDowell's death was met with deep regret by the members of the House, without regard to party, for all of the seniors in service had known him, and he was universally liked. Prior to the democratic victory he had been a familiar figure at the Capitol for seventeen years, and his office during the republican regime was a popular gathering place.

Representative Browning of New Jersey, former chief clerk of the House, expressed great sorrow over the death of his old friend.

"I served him as an officer of the House during his entire term," said Mr. Browning today, "and can speak with knowledge of the deep admiration and genuine respect in which he was held by all who came in contact with him."
"He was one of the most lovable of men, of a very genial and warm-hearted nature. Everybody liked him, and he was as popular on the democratic side as among the republicans. He was a plain-spoken man, whose word was his bond. No mean feat, and of his office during the republican regime was a popular gathering place. He was a most excellent official and his administration was splendid, his men supporting him with great loyalty."
"In private life he was unostentatious, though a man of considerable means. His pension he never touched except to give it away to his old comrades of the G. A. R. less fortunately situated in life than himself. He was fond of companionship, could tell a good story, and tell one, and always was in good humor."

Was Printer and Banker.

Maj. McDowell was born at Franklin, Pa., in 1831, and after receiving a common school education became a printer. Later he engaged in the banking business. He was elected as a republican to the Fifty-third Congress and was later elected clerk of the House.

ESTIMATES ABOUT READY FOR WAR DEPARTMENT

All Items, With the Exception of Fortifications, in the Hands of Secretary.

All the estimates of the War Department have been prepared, with the exception of those for fortifications, and are now in the hands of the Secretary of the Treasury. Delay is occasioned in preparing the estimates for the fortifications on account of the resolutions passed by Congress requiring more detailed statements of the purposes of items in the appropriation bills.

Increase Necessary.

There will be an increase in the estimates for the army over last year because of the addition of 7,500 men to the enlisted strength. That increase has been made largely in raising the regiments on foreign service to the statutory strength.

Another increase will result from the placing of about 4,000 civilians on the army pay roll to the enlistment of men in the Quartermaster Corps.

The estimates will not contain many recommendations for new construction of the army. By special direction of Congress the War Department will submit estimates of the construction of barracks and quarters on the Canal Zone and at Hawaii. These will provide for the quarters of the army in accordance with the views of the general staff, are necessary to protect the Panama canal and to provide for the defense of the Hawaiian Islands.

Additional Force Needed.

The plans call for the stationing of two more regiments of infantry, a squadron of cavalry, a battalion of field artillery and twelve companies of coast artillery on the islands. It is thought that many of the buildings used by the civilian force in connection with the army will be available for use in Hawaii. However, it will be necessary to construct immediately quarters for the companies of coast artillery, as none of the present buildings are located so that they can be used by the coast artillery.

He served in the Fifty-first, Fifty-third, Fifty-fourth, Fifty-fifth, Fifty-sixth, Fifty-seventh and Fifty-eighth congresses as a republican. He had a civil war record, as he enlisted in Company H, 3d Iowa Infantry, in May, 1861, and afterward served as a lieutenant in Company of the same regiment. He was promoted to assistant adjutant general on the staff of Brig. Gen. Samuel A. Rice and after that officer was killed in battle was assigned to duty on the staff of Gen. Frederick A. Steele. POLICEMAN WINS FIGHT AFTER CHASE ON ROOFS

Captures Knife-Wielding Colored Man, Using Blackjack—Bag of Loot Recovered.

PHILADELPHIA, September 30.—A desperate struggle between an alleged burglar and a policeman occurred late last night in a dark room of an empty house in the southern section of this city, after a chase over roof tops and down a chimney. The supposed burglar was finally beaten into submission with a blackjack, but not until after the policeman had been badly cut about the hands and arms with a knife.

Residents of the neighborhood had telephoned to the police station that they heard footsteps on the roof, and Policeman Lyford was sent to investigate.

Plunge Down Open Chimney.

Climbing to the roof, he saw a colored man attempting to break open a trapdoor on a nearby house. The colored man started to run across the tops of the houses, and when the policeman shot at him he plunged down an open chimney. Lyford went after him, both men falling through an open fireplace, thirty feet below. Covered with soot the man rolled over the floor, each trying to gain the mastery. Lyford drew a blackjack and the colored man a knife.

After the colored man had been arrested a bag containing a large quantity of silverware was discovered on the roof.

IS PREPARING TO MAKE CHINA A BATTLEGROUND

Japanese Policy Means Planting Garrison to Forestall Others. Cordial to England.

LONDON, September 30.—A Peking dispatch to the Daily Telegraph says: "Japan is preparing to make China a battleground. Her rivalry with Russia was not settled by the late war. No Russo-Japanese agreements exist covering Mongolia. The Japanese policy has been devoted to preventing the status quo in Manchuria, thus leaving her free to take any necessary countervailing steps."

"The Japanese policy in China, summed up, means the planting of garrisons with out territorial leases, thereby guaranteeing the integrity of China by forestalling others. At Hankow the garrison of 2,000 men will be retained. Another probably will be planted at the Great Tachien mines nearby. Special Japanese concessions under police control will be demanded at Nanking, where policy will be repeated at Fuchow, Amoy and elsewhere. In case of trouble the railways also will be demanded."

"Peking is no longer the capital, the loss of Mongolia and the absence of the usual intercourse rendering it impotent as a center of power to the south. Japan, with practically the whole Chinese revolutionary party under lock and key in Tokyo, holds out her hand to England, knowing that the alliance is more important and necessary than ever."

Edward E. Connolly, fifty-nine years old, told in the Baltimore subways and one of the first members of the 35th Regiment, Maryland National Guard, died Sunday.

The Man Who Wouldn't Quit

Is a remarkable human document, written by a man who was successful in a battle with death and disaster by the force of an indomitable will. More than one physician told him to prepare to die; but he had important work to do, not only for himself, but for others. Single-handed, on the brink of the grave, fevered, hysterical, at times times half insane, he fought and won a battle against a powerful trust.

LIVELY FIGHT EXPECTED. TO USE ISHAM SHELL.

Representative Thomson Seeks Facts About Southern Pacific Oil.

Giving notice that he intends to press his fight against the Southern Pacific Railroad Company and also to demand that the Attorney General should give the House of Representatives all the knowledge at his disposal relative to oil that is being taken from certain western lands by the railroad, Representative Thomson of Illinois introduced a privileged resolution into the House today. He will call it up at the end of seven days, and a lively fight is expected between Representative Thomson, progressive, and some of the members of the democratic party, particularly the judiciary committee.

Representative Thomson's claim is that the Southern Pacific is wrongfully taking enormous valuable oil shipments from a tremendous stretch of land which was given to the railroad with the express provision that no mineral deposits should be taken by the railroad. He introduced a resolution several days ago, but it was not in such form as to be privileged.

Compartment Design to Be Tested at Naval Proving Grounds.

The first experiment with the Isham compartment shell will shortly be made at the naval proving grounds at Indian Head. Five twelve-inch shells, designed by Mr. Isham, have been delivered to the Navy Department, and will have a test to determine whether the compartments can withstand the force of being fired from the guns. They will not be filled with high explosives, as it is not deemed safe to attempt to fire such a shell from a gun until it has been demonstrated that the compartments will fly to pieces before they are projected from the gun. The compartments will be filled with sand.

If the shells stand the first test, then the ordnance bureau probably will take up the work of testing them with high explosives. It is claimed by Mr. Isham that the compartments in his shell are so designed as to make it possible to use high explosives in long range firing.

Breaks Through Water Main.

A steam shovel belonging to W. F. Brenner, contractor, this morning broke through the asphalt pavement in front of 1130 6th street northwest and did considerable damage, sinking to a point where it broke a water main. Employees of the water department soon stopped the flow. It is said the steam shovel weighed about twenty-five tons.
